A Moment to Remember at Right Foot Ranch

At Right Foot Ranch, we believe in the healing power of horses and the quiet strength of connection. Recently, we had the honor of welcoming Curt, a guest living with dementia, for a special visit arranged by his loving wife. Her hope was simple yet profound: that Curt might find peace, joy, and connection in the presence of our horses.

What unfolded was nothing short of extraordinary.

Curt spent time with our gentle horses, moving at his own pace, surrounded by calm and care. His wife later shared a message that touched all our hearts:

"Our hearts were so happy! Thank you. Curt could even express to me how much he enjoyed it. You were perfect for him. You gave him the space he needed."

Even more moving, she told us that Curt spoke and communicated with her—something he hadn't done in months.

Moments like these are why we do what we do. They remind us that even in silence, connection is possible. That healing can happen in the soft nuzzle of a horse, in the quiet of open space, and in the presence of people who care.

Thank you, Curt, for sharing your spirit with us. And thank you to his wife for trusting us with such a meaningful moment.

A Day of Discovery and Connection at Right Foot Ranch

On 7/23/25, 35 enthusiastic children from the Mechanicsburg Learning Center arrived at Right Foot Ranch for an unforgettable experience filled with learning, laughter, and love.

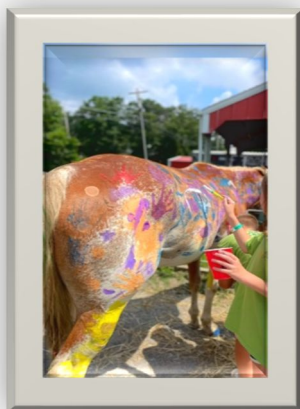

The kids received a special introduction to the rescue horses who call the ranch home. Each horse has a unique story of resilience and recovery, and the children were captivated as they learned about the journeys these animals have taken to find safety and care.

Safety was the first lesson of the day, as the kids were taught how to respectfully and responsibly interact with the horses. They then dove into the world of grooming, learning how to brush and care for the horses—an activity that quickly became a favorite.

Next came the stick horse relay race, where giggles and cheers filled the air as the children raced across the field, showing off their speed and teamwork. Creativity took center stage when the horses became interactive canvases, allowing the kids to express themselves through paint. The result was a colorful celebration of imagination and connection.

The day wrapped up with a heartfelt talk about created value—a reminder to each child that they are unique, important, and deeply valued. The message resonated with everyone, leaving a lasting impression that extended far beyond the ranch.

Right Foot Ranch was honored to host the Mechanicsburg Learning Center and looks forward to more days like this, where learning and compassion come together in the most meaningful ways.
